

Psalm 19: The Heavens Are Telling

D tuning: Capo 2nd fret

D G/D D D2
 The heavens are telling the glory of God
 D G/D D D2
 The firmament heralds the works of His hand
 Am7 G/B D
 Daily their speech is outpoured
 Am7 G/B D D2
 Nightly their knowledge declared

Now there is no speaking, nor do they use words
 Their voice is unheard, yet it fills the whole world
 Surely they send out their words
 Unto the ends of the earth

Gm
 Let the words of my mouth
 C D D2 D
 And the thoughts of my heart
 Gm C
 Be acceptable in Your sight, O Lord,
 D D2
 My Rock and Redeemer

He placed in the heavens a tent for the sun
 Which comes like a bridegroom departing his room
 Like a strong man so it goes
 Running its course full of joy

From one end of heaven its rising is seen
 Completing its circuit, the other end gleams
 Nothing is hid from its heat
 Nothing is hid from its heat

REFRAIN

The Lord's law is perfect, the soul to revive
 His statements are sure, making simple men wise
 Right precepts gladden the heart
 And pure commands brighten eyes

Both clean and enduring, the fear of the Lord
 And righteous completely are all His true Words
 Valued above finest gold
 Sweeter than pure honeycomb

REFRAIN

And further Your servant is warned by Your Words
 He, always in keeping them, finds great reward
 But who discerns all his flaws?
 Clear me from my hidden faults

So may he be kept from presumptuous sins
 Give them no dominion to rule over him
 Then I shall be innocent
 And blameless of greater sin

REFRAIN x2
