

Psalm 74, This Mount Zion

G2 Em7 D2 C2
O God, have You rejected us forever? Will Your anger burn against the sheep You pasture?
G2 Em7 D2 C2
Remember Your assembly, which of old You pledged, You redeemed to be the tribe of Your inheritance;
D2 C2 D2 G2
In this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. In this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt.

G2 Em7 D2 C2
And toward these everlasting ruins now turn Your feet; The foe has broken down the Sanctuary.
G2 Em7 D2 C2
Your adversaries roared within Your meeting place; They set up their own signs and banners of disgrace.
D2 C2 D2 G2
In this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. In this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt.

G2 Em7 D2 C2
See how an axe was lifted in a glade of trees. Their hatchets and their hammers smash its artistry.
G2 Em7 D2 C2
Unto the ground how they have burned Your Holy Place; Defiled the habitation of Your glorious name.
D2 C2 D2 G2
In this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. In this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt.

Em C G Dsus D
They said in their heart, "Let us utterly subdue." They burned all God's meeting places down.
Em C G Dsus D
We do not see our signs; there's no prophet anymore, not even one among us knows how long.
Em C G Dsus D
How long, O God, how long, will the enemy revile, Will the foe forever ridicule Your name?
Em C G Dsus D
Why now withdraw Your hand, even Your right hand? From within Your bosom, strike them down! D

G2 Em7 D2 C2
Yet God has been my king since when it all began, performing all His saving works throughout the land.
G2 Em7 D2 C2
For by Your strength the great sea was divided; and there within the waters broke the dragon's heads.
D2 C2 D2 G2
For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt.

G2 Em7 D2 C2
Yes, of Leviathan you trampled on his heads; gave him as food for people in the wilderness.
G2 Em7 D2 C2
You opened up for them the fountains and the springs; You shriveled up the strong and ever-flowing streams.
D2 C2 D2 G2
For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt.

G2 Em7 D2 C2
Yours is the day, Yours also is the night time; You prepare the moonlight and the sunshine.
G2 Em7 D2 C2
You have set the boundaries of all the earth; both the summer and the winter You bring forth.
D2 C2 D2 G2
For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. q

Em C G Dsus D
Remember this, O LORD, how the enemy reviled, and how Your name the foolish ones despised.
Em C G Dsus D
Deliver not the soul of Your dove to wild beasts; and do not long forget Your poor ones' lives.
Em C G Dsus D
Look towards the covenant, for the darkness of the land is full of habitations for the mean.
Em C G Dsus D
O let not the oppressed all turn back and be ashamed; And let the poor and needy praise Your name. D

G2 Em7 D2 C2
Arise, O God, and plead for Your own righteous case; Remember how the foolish have reproached all day.
G2 Em7 D2 C2
Do not forget the voice of all Your enemies, The noise of their revolt ascends continually.
D2 C2 D2 G2
For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt. For this Mount Zion, where You have dwelt.
